AUTHOR PANELS SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1993

TIME	BALLROOMS & II	BALLROOMS III & IV
	CRIMES PAST IN TIMES PAST	TRAVEL CAN BE DANGEROUS TO YOUR HEALTH
9:30 TO 10:30	The historical mystery is alive and well practiced by these contemporary craftsmen.	These authors' peripatetic sleuths circle the globe to uncover crime.
	Martin Meyers, Moderator	Patricia McFall, Moderator
	Keith Heller John Lescroart Sharan Newman Annette Meyers Ken Kuhlken	Aaron Elkins Audrey Peterson Laura Frankos Serita Stevens
	IT'S ALL IN THE MIND	WALKING A TIGHTROPE
40.55	The study and practice of psychology are well applied in the contemporary crime novel.	Novels of pure suspense can keep you on the edge of your seator walking that tightrope.
10:40 TO	Marilyn Wallace, Moderator	Meg O'Brien, Moderator
11:40	Stephen White Gayle Stone Abigail Padgett	Marlys Millhiser Nicholae Gerstner J.M. Morgan Barbara Pronin
	11:40 am LUNCH BREAK	12:30
	TINSELTOWN AKA HOLLYWEIRD	LOCATION, LOCATION
	Los Angeles and Hollywood are part glitter, part grime and all mean streets territory.	Guest of honor Sue Dunlap practices the fine art of creating character out of setting, as do her fellow panelists.
12:30	Jim Stinson, Moderator	Sue Dunlap, Moderator
TO 1:30	Robert Crais Dick Lochte Robert Levinson Jesse Sublett	Janet La Pierre Les Roberts Rebecca Rothenberg Peter Robinson
1:40	WRITERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE	TOUGH TIMES DON'T LASTTOUGH GUYS DO
	Zane Grey territory has been reclaimed by a new generation of mystery writers with deep, Southwest roots.	The tough private eye is an American invention and an enduring tradition in the genre.
TO	Ernie Bulow, Moderator	Wendy Hornsby, Moderator
2:40	Jean Hager Walter Satterthwaite J.A. Jance Judith Van Gieson Ray Ring	Jerome Doolittle Les Roberts Alan Russell Janet Dawson Nancy Baker Jacobs
2:50 TO 3:50	A SLICE OF ORANGE	A DIFFERENT DRUMMER
	Crime has arrived in the land of Orange Groves, Republicans and Disneyland. These authors have staked out Orange County as the new "mean streets".	Not all sleuths are the traditional lone wolf tough guys and gals; some embrace an alternative lifestyle.
	Maxine O'Callaghan, Moderator	Margaret Lucke, Moderator
	Noreen Ayres Ann & Evan Maxwell Jean Femling Nancy Taylor Rosenberg	Grant Michaels Shelley Singer Stan Cutler Jim Stinson Elizabeth Pincus
